AUSTRIA ACCEPTS CONDITIONS WILSON NOTE

BERLIN ANSWERS WILSON'S NOTE

Reply Calls Attention to Alterations in the German Constitution.

WANTS PEACE TERMS

Bill Placing the Military Command Under Control of the Civil Government Has Been Passed by the Reichstag.

Paris, Oct. 28.—An answer to President Wilson's last note has been prepared by the German government, in which, after again referring to the "far-reaching changes which have been and are being carried out in the German constitutional structure, to which the military powers have been made subject," it declares that Germany now awaits the proposals for an armistice.

A London dispatch, however, in reporting the fact that Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour had gone to France with naval and military advisers, says it is understood authoritatively that the Allied governments will not reveal their armistice terms until Germany has replied to President Wilson's last note, which, it probably was expected, would contain more than the mere fact that Germany was waiting for the terms of the armistice.

Ludendorff Steps Out.

A crash has come in the personnel of the German high command.

General Ludendorff, reputed to be the brains of the German army—the man who promised he would crush Great Britain and France before the United States could get under way in a military sense, has resigned his position as first quartermaster general, and Emperor William has accepted his resignation.

Military Losing Power.

Simultaneously, while the German line continues to crumble under the Allied attacks and the German border is slowly but gradually being approached by Germany's foes, come a report that the reichstag, by a large majority, passed a bill placing the military command under control of the civil government.

Germany's answer to President Wilson's latest communication says:

The German government has taken cognizance of the answer of the President of the United States.

The President is aware of the far-reaching changes which have been carried out and are being carried out in the German constitutional structure, and that peace negotiations are being conducted by a people's government in whose hands rests, both actually and constitutionally, the power to make the deciding conclusions.

The military powers are also subject to it.

The German government now awaits proposals for an armistice, which shall be the first step toward a just peace," as the President has described in his proclamation."

GENERAL LUDENDORFF QUILTS

German Military Genius Reported to Have Resigned.

Copenhagen, Oct. 28.—General Ludendorff, first quartermaster general of the German army, has resigned, says a telegram from Berlin. In accepting his resignation, the emperor has decreed that the lower Rhine infantry regiment No. 39, of which General Ludendorff long had been commander, shall bear his name.

In the resignation of General Ludendorff, Germany loses what often has been described as her "military brain."

Mine Workers' Conference Called.

Indianapolis, Oct. 28.—Frank J. Hayes, president of the United Mine Workers of America, called a conference of district officials of the bituminous coal districts to meet here next Thursday to discuss the wage situation.

Wheat Sweepstakes Prize.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 28.—A world's sweepstakes prize for wheat has been awarded to Seeger Wheeler of Rossmere, Sask., Can., by the International Soil Products exposition, it was announced here. Awards were made to exhibitors on a ribbon and trophy basis. First prize for the most artistic exhibition was awarded to the province of Manitoba. First prize for best display of sorghums fell to Florida. The greater part of the other awards were given to Kansas and Missouri exhibitors.

AUSTRIA ASKS FOR ARMISTICE AND PEACE---WAR SPIRIT IS CRUMBLING

(By United Press)

Paris, Oct. 28.—Austria in replying to Wilson's note accepts all the peace conditions, it was officially reported from Berne today. Austria accepts Wilson's terms regarding the Czechoslavs and Jugo-Slavs. Austria, it is said, declares her readiness to enter peace negotiations immediately regardless of the result of other negotiations, and asks Wilson to take appropriate measures toward an armistice and peace.

BERLIN SENDS REPLY

Unofficial Text of New German Note Has Arrived.

Allied and American Governments Considering the Question of an Armistice.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Germany's reply to President Wilson has been received here in unofficial form.

The question of an armistice and peace already is being considered by the Allied governments and the United States.

Colonel E. M. House and Admiral W. S. Benson, ranking officer of the American navy, recently arrived in France, the former to represent the President in the discussions to be held in Versailles, where the supreme war council sits.

Admiral Benson will represent the navy in any matters relating to an armistice insofar as American naval forces may be affected. General Tasker H. Bliss, former chief of staff, is the American military representative at the council.

The German reply is expected to clear the way for a general discussion of the individual views of the Allied powers on peace terms and an agreement among the nations fighting Germany so that a united front on these questions may be presented to the common enemy.

American Bombers are Active

With Americans in France, Oct. 28—One hundred and fifty bombing planes on Sunday dropped five tons of American bombs on German concentrations.

German Replies to Wilson, Awaits Terms

The German government awaits proposals for an armistice, introducing a peace of justice, such as the president has proposed.

BRITISH OCCUPY IMPORTANT CITY

Turkish Troops Are Driven From Aleppo, Syria, by General Allenby's Men.

MAKING SLIGHT GAINS

On the Western Front the Americans, French and British Continue to Push the Germans From Invaded Territory.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The American Second army, under Major General Bullard, is holding the line in the Woerthe. This was disclosed by General Pershing in his communiqué received at the War department. Repulse of heavy German attacks on the front northwest of Verdun by Major General Liggett's First army also was reported.

London, Oct. 28.—The Americans, French and British continue to make slight gains against the Germans on the western battle front, in the Italian theater both the British and Italians have scored successes, while in Asiatic Turkey the British have taken Aleppo, Syria, and are driving ahead on both banks of the Tigris in Mesopotamia, with the Turks unable to check them.

Aleppo Fall Important.

The fall of Aleppo and the continued advance up the Tigris are moves of such strategic value that it is not unlikely Turkish opposition shortly will be entirely overcome both in the Holy Land and Mesopotamia.

The French armies fighting on the 40-mile front between the Oise and Aisne rivers are keeping up their offensive and have made additional gains, taking several villages and compelling the Germans to fall back at various points.

Counter Attacks Checked.

In the region southeast of Valenciennes around Le Quesnoy the Germans have delivered violent counter attacks against the British.

Their efforts to throw back Field Marshal Haig's men from the positions they hold were unsuccessful and heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy by machine gun and rifle fire.

The Americans have begun the second month of their operations in the region of Verdun by keeping up their attacks against the Germans from the Meuse to the wooded country north of Grandpre.

Some further progress has been made, notwithstanding continued strong opposition by German machine gunners from behind the natural fortifications which abound throughout this district.

American airmen also are continuing their bombing operations behind the German lines, their latest effort in this respect having been made against the territory around Briquenay, north of Grandpre, in which 140 airplanes took part, 60 of them being bombing machines.

Since the Americans began their operations northwest of Verdun more than 45 villages have been liberated, an advance of an average depth of 10 miles has been made and more than 20,000 Germans have been taken prisoners.

Revolution in Vienna Feared

London, Oct. 28.—A revolution is feared in Vienna according to advices received today. The archdukes have taken refuge in a castle at Godol and Emperor Karl will soon leave for Deneczin.

Does Not Mean Free Trade

Washington, Oct. 28.—Denouncing as "lamentable" alleged republican attempt to "bend to partisan service" the "momentous issue of this solemn hour," President Wilson today explained that article three of his peace formula does not mean a policy of free trade.

VISIT AT CLARK'S AND HALL'S

Michael Co. Have Victrola Supply for Trade—Folsom's to Remove to Walker Block

A visit at music circles in Brainerd revealed news in this sphere: At Wm. Graham's store in the Wae block on South Sixth street he has just received a new Holland piano player, one of the first of its kind in this section. It possesses a feature which especially commends itself for playing accompaniments for singing. Music by a simple switch of a key may be transposed from high to low or normal keys. The piano has a beautiful singing tone and many musicians have heard it and expressed themselves as pleased with the tonal qualities.

At the H. F. Michael store Mr. Michael commented on the scarcity of Victrolas and the foresight shown by his company in early putting in a stock for holiday requirements. The Victor people have devoted a large section of their plant to the manufacture of aeroplanes. By purchasing early and storing away, the Michael Co. was able to gain a surplus of Victrolas and records.

At the Folsom Music House a removal sale is in progress. In November Mr. Folsom will have his store located in the Walker block in quarters now occupied by Chris Schwabe. The Vanek Jewelry store will retain its location. The Schwabe dry cleaning store will remove to the quarters vacated by Mr. Folsom.

At W. J. Hall's music house Kimball pianos and phonographs are handled and a parlor for demonstrating instruments has been added. Many sales are reported in the city, Mr. Hall having increased his sales force.

At D. M. Clark & Co. the Brunswick phonograph is featured and demonstration rooms added display the instruments in splendid manner. Mr. O'Brien is assured that the holiday trade will fully equal any previous season.

LIEUTENANT LUKE MISSING

FLED WITH YOUTH

Advancing Years Destroyed Illusion of Old-Time Fair.

Gilded Caravans, With Their Wonderful Contents, Which Entertained the People of English Villages, Recalled to Memory.

The fair always appeared at the same date and at the same place in the particular town each year, in obedience to some mysterious calendar that probably never got into print, but, nevertheless, was perfectly well known to the show folk. No one knew exactly, or cared exactly, whence these showmen and show women came. They seemed to comprise a veritable peripatetic army, whose whole duty was to travel from one end of Great Britain to the other and entertain and instruct less fortunate people. Judging from the gilding posters on their wagons, but more particularly from the huge paintings which adorned their show fronts, they had traveled to the uttermost parts of the earth, in order to find the subjects for their "unique and refined entertainment," and had been rewarded by the patronage of most of the crowned heads of Europe and the presidents of the American republics. They rode for the most part in showy caravans, adorned with pictures and neat little white curtains drawn across little windows, and topped by smoking chimneys. Or they drove wagons piled with properties, or vans the front ends of which could be let down and transformed into an imposing show front, while the opposite end could be mysteriously elongated, and lo! there sprang into being, within the space of a few minutes, a long, tubular rifle gallery!

The news of the arrival of the first wagon, or the first gilded caravan, or of the setting up of the first tent pole, the sure sign and symbol of the coming of the annual fair, was always a source of intense interest and expectancy to the young generation in the town. Straggling detachments of boys and girls would soon be moving toward the fair ground to get first impressions of the pleasure to come. And when the opening day of the fair had actually arrived, or, better still, when the day of days, which was market day, had come, and the grounds were packed with people, and one had already "done" the circus twice, watched the gorgeous street procession of "lords and ladies" and howdah elephants, and had almost begged oneself for the sake of seeing the "greatest wild-beast show in the world, with the only live gorilla in captivity," at feeding time, which of course was the most expensive time, there was nothing to do but to go through the fair once more. The last penny for that day had been spent, it was true, but one might have the good fortune to come across, in some corner or byway of the fair, the awesome person who "ate fire," or the wonderful man who lifted heavy weights like tops, or "swallowed swords."

Never, so it seemed, could there be so much for one to do or to enjoy; never could there be again, or anywhere else, so much delight as was crowded into those avenues of noise by day and noise and flaming naphtha lights by night, where a dozen brass bands played simultaneously, a dozen organs screamed and trumpeted and a dozen big drums banged from the steps of the shows; where hundreds of rattles rattled, and stentorian voices bellowed to the crowds to patronize this and to look at that.

That the old-time fair was always sure to be much the same, year after year, did not much detract from its gorgeousness or fascination in the eyes of those youthful patrons who had been "saving up" for weeks to enjoy its prospective delights. Yet it is true that, as time went past, something of the charm of the fair went with it. The "kings" and "queens" seemed to be less royal, the gold more tinsel, the colors more garish, the noise more apparent, the music more cacophonous and the show people less interesting. Then it was that the interest lagged, disillusion crept in, and at last the fair ceased to attract. It had, indeed, become a very ordinary thing.

By taking a sounding disk and attaching a cardboard horn to one end and a telephone receiver to another, it is possible to make a fairly good airplane detector for the children. Two of the kiddies are here seen enjoying the whir of an aviator's plane flying overhead.

SAVE FOOD AS NEVER BEFORE

This Is Call of Food Administration to Public for Coming Year.

INCREASE OF FIFTY PER CENT IS NEEDED

Last Year 11,820,000 Tons Sent Army and Allies—This Year 17,550,000 Must Go.

"The people of the United States are right bang up against the stiffest food saving they have known, at least since Civil War times," says A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota. "They must realize this fact right now and be prepared to make sacrifices in order that the fighting forces of the Allies in Europe and the civilian population of the Allies in Europe, who have endured the burden of history's most terrible war for more than four years, may be sustained in the trying period which we believe will mark the finish of the great conflict."

"The cold, hard facts of the situation are just these: Last year with not a little effort, the United States shipped to its allies and allies 11,820,000 tons of food. This year, with no longer resources upon which to draw, they must ship 17,550,000 tons. This is an increase of 5,730,000 tons, or practically 50 per cent."

"In other words, America this year must save 50 per cent more food than they saved a year ago."

"How is this to be done?"

"The rigid rules which have been laid down for public eating places and which were outlined in these columns a week ago, show what the food administration believes it is necessary for hotels, restaurants, boarding houses and other places where ready food is sold, to do, and the food administration intends to see that this is done. If public eating places do not loyally and patriotically co-operate, the food administration will not hesitate to secure compliance through its control of the distribution of sugar, flour, and other food supplies."

"But, this affects only 10 per cent of the people of the United States. What about the other 90 per cent or more than 90,000,000 people? In other words, what about saving in the American home?"

"This is the answer: The American housewife must put herself into intensive

TREES AND SHRUBS FOR PARK

Those That Produce Colored Fruits Should Always Be Given Preference, for Many Reasons.

The guiding principle in park planning should be beauty, but it should not be a temporary or one-seasonal beauty. Hence it follows that shrubs and trees which produce colored fruits, and retain them for long periods, are preferable to plants whose chief decorative contribution is a short burst of bloom. Such shrubs are handsomer at all times after flowering and are particularly valuable in winter when every bit of color in the landscape is precious. They are valuable moreover in supplying bird food.

A few suggestions as to the use of fruit-producing plants are not out of place. The ideal American park is natural woodland, modified and embellished, or a planting that follows natural lines. Informal treatment is almost universally preferred to formal. From the standpoint of bird attraction this is fortunate, since clipping shrubs either prevents or reduces the production of fruit and causes the plants to form such solid and dense surfaces that they are uninviting to birds.

Wood Resists Fire.

The fire-resistant quality of wood is shown in a recent issue of Scientific American, which discusses the advantages of wood block floors for industrial purposes. The article states that there have been many instances where crucibles overturned and molten metal poured out upon the blocks with little damage. In a recent fire which destroyed pier No. 29 at Philadelphia and warped and twisted the structural steel, the creosoted block floors were only slightly charred.

Keep After the Weeds.

Weeds result not only in big financial loss but also in great annoyance. Diseases, such as hay fever, could be eliminated almost entirely by adopting efficient methods for controlling the incidental weeds found along roadsides, in vacant fields, and in waste places.

Proper Receptacle for Rubbish.

We are all agreed that dust, dirt, garbage and other rubbish should be kept as far as possible from the dwelling house, yet it is surprising how often we find the rubbish receptacle as close as possible to the doors and windows of the house. It is to be regretted that in so many towns these receptacles are open wood boxes, pails or old baths. We find a grand selection, but it is a difficult matter to secure the provision of a proper bin, and the official often does not obtain the support he should, if only we could press upon the people the necessity to secure for themselves a proper galvanized bin with cover, which appears to me to be the most satisfactory if properly used!—Architect and Contract Reporter.

"Here is a typical illustration: A small boy in a Minnesota household, the other day, within an hour after a hearty dinner, asked for something to eat. His father knew that he could not be hungry, that he was merely asking for food to satisfy his appetite for 'goodies.' His father met his request with the figures which are given above and followed that with this statement: 'Every mouthful you eat which is unnecessary for the maintenance of your health and strength is a mouthful taken from someone in Europe who needs it a thousand times more than you do. Now, if as a loyal young American you feel you can eat food within an hour after having a full meal, it is up to you.' The boy was game and refused the food.

"But, it is just that kind of thing that American families have got to face this year. Eating merely for the pleasure of eating must stop, if we are going to do the right thing by our sons and other relatives, and our friends, who have gone overseas to wipe out one of the cruellest and vilest groups of self-constituted tyrants that the world has ever known, and to make the world a free and decent place to live in.

"We have subscribed for liberty loan bonds. We have given to the Belgian relief, to the Red Cross, to the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and similar organizations. We have contributed loyalty in order to make the leave-taking of our home boys express our determination to support them here at home while they fight our battles abroad. All this is good, but we undo all of this kind of thing, in a measure at least, if we do not conserve food.

"The phrase, 'food slacker,' will become a term of reproach as bitter as any other to the conscience of the American who does not co-operate in the home food drive that is now before us.

"I believe, however, that there will be few slackers in American homes this winter," concluded Mr. Wilson. "Americans are too wide awake to the necessity of saving the lives of their soldiers by saving food. They are too loyal to be careless or indifferent in the food campaign that is ahead. But it should be remembered that—

"By saving food we save soldiers' lives."

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. MINNESOTA STATE PRISON

A most commendable report is the twentieth biennial report, 1917-18, of the Minnesota State Prison at Stillwater, the Dispatch having received a copy from C. S. Reed, the warden.

The most interesting section in the whole report concerns the discipline indicated. It shows that prison walls coupled with proper humanitarian rules does not still the patriotic feeling in men and women. We quote from the report:

"Loyal and patriotic men and women are amenable to discipline. The loyalty and patriotism of the inmates of this institution is best indicated by the splendid spirit shown in donating and subscribing to the various war funds as follows, up to July 31, 1918, the close of this biennial period:

Donations to Red Cross.....$ 2,356.85
Donations to K. of C.....757.25
Miscellaneous donations.....157.00

Total.....$ 3,271.10
Subscriptions to 1st, 2nd and 3rd Liberty Loans.....$34,300.00
War Savings and Thrift
Stamps purchase.....15,637.52

Grand Total.....$53,208.62
Per capita donation and subscription of $61.08."

There's the section of the report more than anything else, which shows that Warden Reed is to be commended, as well as the men and women in his charge for the patriotic spirit shown.

IT'S FOR THE BOYS

The citizens of Crow Wing county will soon be called upon to raise the largest fund they have been asked for during the war for the comfort of "the boys."

Last year there were numerous drives which did not receive full consideration because of the frequency with which people were approached for gifts.

Wise indeed, is the decision this year to combine all the needs of the various war organizations into one fund in proportion to their needs and make but one drive instead of seven as last year.

It naturally follows that some will be more interested in the activities of some one or two organizations more than others but as the boys are fighting for a common cause and as all organizations are contributing to their needs irrespective of creeds it is presumed that not a single person will do otherwise than to make their gift to the boys and not question what agency shall distribute that gift.

This spirit is demonstrating the power of the great American Democracy which is welding such a powerful force among the nations of the world today. Every dollar of the $170,500,000 is for the boys and should be met generously.

$1.70 A CITIZEN

The $170,500,000 total asked for the United War Work Campaign of November 11-18 means little more than an average contribution of $1.70 by every man, woman and child in the country. And in the advantages of this drive seven notable—and noble—organizations will share. These are the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army.

Contributions to individual organizations may be made but will not be encouraged since the division of the money contributed is to be on a pro rata basis.

Serious Disturbances Reported in Many German Cities.

London, Oct. 28.—It is daily reported that riots are of daily occurrence in various parts of Germany, resulting in conflicts with the police and loss of life.

The lack of raw materials, especially of explosives, is seriously hampering munition works. It is stated that Krupps have been compelled to dismiss many workers.

NATION PAYING GREAT WAR BILL

Cost of Conflict for the Fiscal Year 1918 is Placed at $36,298,405,223.

EXPENSE IS INCREASING

Money Now Is Being Spent at the Rate of Twenty-Four Billion Dollars Annually, Nearly Double Since January.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Should American industries be able to handle all war orders authorized for the fiscal year 1918 by Congress the nation's war bill for that period will be $36,298,405,223.07, a sum within $1,000,000,000 of the amount spent by Great Britain in the first four years of war.

Appropriations for the year total $26,877,453,398.30, which means that the next session of this Congress or the Sixty-sixth Congress must appropriate $9,421,030,122.00 to take care of authorized contracts, provided those in power can spend that much money.

For the fiscal year 1917 our appropriations and authorizations totaled $21,390,730,840.46. Of this amount $7,000,000,000 was for loans to our Allies. Contract authorizations totaled $2,511,553,925.59.

At the present time money is being spent at the rate of approximately twenty-four billions annually. It has nearly doubled since last January, when the expenditures, exclusive of loans to the Allies, were about one billion dollars monthly.

AWAITS ARMISTICE TERMS

Indications Are Germany Is in Desperate Plight.

London, Oct. 28.—Germany's answer to President Wilson's latest communication declares that Germany is now awaiting proposals for an armistice.

This is believed to indicate Germany is in a desperate plight and to reject President Wilson's note. A change in the German government seems imminent.

It is understood in authoritative quarters that the Allied governments will not reveal their armistice terms until Germany has officially replied to President Wilson's note.

Premier Lloyd George and Foreign Secretary Balfour, accompanied by naval and military officers, have gone to France.

WOULD HOLD GERMAN SHIPS

British Marine Interests Oppose Returning Seized Vessels.

London, Oct. 28.—German ships should not be set free after the war "to extend their share of the world's carrying trade and so profit by the losses which their government by means mainly piratical had inflicted on the ships of the Allies." This plan is urged upon the British government in a resolution adopted by the Council of Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdom.

Shipping taken over from Germany, the council suggests, should be distributed among the Allied countries in proportion to their losses.

New Air Record Made.

Belmont Park, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Sergt. Coombs of Hazelhurst Field, Long Island, won the airplane flight to the Status of Liberty and return at the army aviation carnival here. Driving a De Havilland plane with Liberty Motors, he covered the 36 miles in 15 miles and 30 seconds, which is said to establish a new record. Seven machines, all of the De Havilland type, made the flight and finished with only 30 seconds time between the first and last competitors.

Buildings Are in Ruins and Harbor Filled With Sand.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Zeebrugge is the picture of desolation, according to dispatches received at the Belgian legation.

The semaphore, the buildings of the Compagnie Maritime and the Savay Chemical works are a heap of ruins.

On the mole itself all the buildings have been destroyed and the system of railway tracks and overhead cranes is out of commission.

A great deal of sand has been dropped into the harbor, between the passage back of the mole and the entrance to the Bruges canal, where the wreck of the British cement-laden vessel, sunk in April still is lying.

Great Organizations Which Are Helping to Keep Up the Morale of Fighting Millions Unite in Campaign for $170,500,000.

With millions of American men on war fronts, in training camps and on the seas and with thousands of American women on foreign soil, all engaged in the stupendous task of making the world safe for democracy, a great duty devolves upon those who remain in the United States—the duty of sending Home to those who have put Home behind them for the period of the war. The agencies through which this can be accomplished are joined in the United War Work Campaign.

From being given the cigarette or chocolate bar, with which he stays his hunger in the fury of battle, to the theatrical entertainment or the athletic games, which relax him into normal comfort after weeks of terrific combat, the American fighter is dependent upon the continued efforts of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council and K. of C., the War Camp Community Service, the Jewish Welfare Board, the American Library Association and the Salvation Army. To carry on this work the combined welfare organizations are seeking a fund of $170,500,000.

The Y. M. C. A. provides 538 huts in American training camps and more than 800 in the war zone as centers which the fighters can use as clubs, schools, theatres, stores, churches, libraries and writing rooms. More than 7,000 men and women had been sent overseas or approved for overseas work by early autumn and 3,822 were serving in American camps at home.

Y. M. C. A. huts are the canteens of the American Expeditionary Force and are the theatres where the American entertainers, sent over by the "Y," appear. Noted American public men and clergymen speak in the huts. Classes are conducted there. Millions of letters are written there on paper provided by the "Y." Physical directors of the "Y" teach and spread mass athletics, using material furnished free by the organization.

The Y. W. C. A. does similar work for the thousands of American women in war work overseas—signal corps telephone operators, nurses and French munition workers. It provides caterinas, rest and recreation centers, entertainment and reading for these women and girls.

The Y. W. C. A.'s outstanding contribution to soldier welfare work in training camps was the establishment of Hostess Houses, where the soldier or sailor may receive his mother, wife, sister or sweetheart in the surroundings and atmosphere of the best homes.

The National Catholic War Council

co-ordinates all Catholic welfare work in support of the government and through the K. of C. provides club-houses for our fighters in all American training camps, as well as having seventy-five centers in France and three in England. In their huts the

K. of C. provides entertainment, movies, boxing bouts, educational work, religious services, free stationery, reading matter and writing rooms.

In France their rolling canteen accompanys the American army, their secretaries march with the troops, giving away cigarettes, cookies, chocolates, soap and towels.

The K. of C. had 300 workers in France at the beginning of autumn, with 450 more passed by the government and 200 others signed up.

At the same date they had 468 secretaries in American training camps, 150 buildings, fifty-six more in the course of erection and contracts let for fifty more.

War Camp Community Service functions exclusively in America, its special mission being to "surround the camp with hospitality."

In place of leaving the soldier or sailor to the promiscuous companions and diversions formerly his lot, the organization obtains for him the best to be had in communities adjoining camps or through which he passes.

W. C. C. S. obtains for him invitations to dine, bathe or spend the day in the best homes.

It introduces him

It arouses communities to provide concerts, athletic contests and other wholesome diversions have been historic camp followers.

The natural wood finish and varnishing, etc., was done by J. H. Noble. The entrance to the flats is on South Seventh street. One family has moved in, two more are to follow soon, and before snow falls all will probably be occupied.

On the ground floor is located the Woodhead Motor Co. store. Adjacent are convenient store rooms measuring 25 by 60. The building is a distinct improvement to this section of the city.

PRIVATE BREASON

Writes Mother of Experience at a Base Hospital in France

My own dear Mother:

I received most welcome letter and box of cookies and biscuits today, they came yesterday morning, and one of my tent mates brought them over to the hospital to me.

I suppose you will wonder what is the matter with me, so I will explain: The camp is all under quarantine with diphtheria and has been for a couple of weeks, and I was on guard a week ago and it rained all night and all the next day, so my clothes were ringing wet, while on guard duty. You are not allowed to remove your clothes, not even your shoes. You are on guard for two hours and off for four so I had to sleep in my wet clothes and I got an awful cold, and a mighty sore throat but I didn't say anything about it for four or five days. I have been attending non-commissioned officers training school, and if you miss a day you are dropped out until the next class is formed and I wanted to hold it out if I could, so Thursday afternoon we got a half holiday so I thought it would be a good chance to go to the infirmary and get some thing for my cold. But just as soon as the doctor looked at my throat he called the ambulance and shot me over to the base hospital. They were scared to death, and thought that I had diphtheria, but my throat is quite a bit better now, but I am still confined to my bed.

Oh yes, now comes the funny part I was almost starved, they have been giving me a little eggnog and that is all since I have been here. By some fortunate chance, this friend of mine got the box of cookies in without anybody seeing it, and I sure waded into them. The date cookies are just the kind I had been dreaming about. The nurse just brought me two graham crackers and a glass of milk and wondered why I didn't tear into them like a mad man, so I told her I had got beyond the graham cracker stage that it was ham and eggs or a well cooked steak that I needed. I hope she don't find the box, or as pay says, she will put me where the dogs won't bite me. There doesn't seem to be any one around so I guess I will try a date cookie with my milk. It's a good thing that she brought the graham crackers, it will give me an alibi for the crumbs. I am sorry that I can't pass these around for I know that the rest of the bunch in here are starved too.

I forgot to tell how good the Red Cross nurses are, one little move and one comes flying to your bedside to see what she can do for you; they can't beat. And how good this bed felt the other night. The first thing I got was a bath, clean pajamas then put to bed in a honest-to-God bed with mattress and real sheets and a pillow. You can't imagine what that means until you sleep on a canvas cot on a bag of straw, with no pillow and one blanket for three months.

Well I must close for this time, Your loving son and brother,

HAROLD BREASON,

Co. A, Fifth Pioneer Inf.

TUBERCULOSIS LESSONS GIVEN

BY DR. H. F. GAMMONS, (Supt. of Deerwood Sanatorium.)

NO. 1—History of Tuberculosis. The history of tuberculosis has been divided into four periods for the purpose of clearness and convenience:

First, period of symptoms.

Second, period of anatomy.

Third, period of course, and—

Fourth, period of prevention.

In the first period all phases of the disease were based on symptoms and nothing was known of the course. Authors writing five or six centuries before Christ gave the symptoms of tuberculosis as follows, extreme wasting of the body, severe cough, profuse expectoration, drenching night sweats and high fever. They thought that people always died with these symptoms.

We know today that these were the symptoms of advanced tuberculosis, or consumption, and we must sin to forget these old symptoms when, as a rule, a case is not amenable to treatment; and we must have the symptoms of early tuberculosis when a person, if properly treated, can for all practical purposes be cured, providing they live the life they should after undergoing treatment for a certain length of time.

Gaten in the second century A. D. gave the same symptoms as those given by the earlier writers and recommended milk diet and a dry climate. Others recommended sea voyages and still others horseback riding.

The contagious nature of the disease was recognized at this time and prolonged residence with a consumptive was considered a frequent cause of tuberculosis.

In the second period the first accurate description of the disease in the lungs was given and the small areas were called tubercles.

In the third period, or period of course, Villemain, Couheim and Robert Koch experimented with animals, injecting the tuberculosis into them. Villemain demonstrated that the disease was infectious. Robert Koch in 1882 discovered and isolated the tubercle bacillus.

The cause of tuberculosis thus was one of the greatest of discoveries known to medical science.

In the period of prevention, the whole world found in trying to prevent tuberculosis some people being more active than others and some states and countries going about it in different ways. The state of Minnesota is doing a wonderful amount of good in building county sanatoria, instructing the people, etc., and similar work is being carried out in all states, but in the writer's opinion the solution of the tuberculosis question rests with the people themselves and if I can tell the people in these lessons what I have learned from my teachers as well as from my own observations, and if the people will apply the knowledge gained, I shall feel that a great amount of good will result and by the combined efforts of the intelligent people and the medical profession we will conquer the "hidden" enemy.

"THE HUN WITHIN" A PRE-RELEASE SHOWING

Privileged Few, Very Few, See Great Story in Which Geo. Fawcett and Dorothy Gish Appear

INTENSE PATRIOTIC APPEAL

One of the Most Thrilling Pictures of a Phase of the War Ever Shown in the Northwest

It was a form of mild dissipation for the Dispatch reporter to be one of a privileged few, very few, who this morning had a chance to see some real moving pictures.

You remember, weeks ago, the influenza ban shut off moving pictures and movie fans are almost desperate at losing their source of enjoyment. This morning Manager Workman said: "I've got a treat in store for you. I've got a pre-release film, 'The Hun Within,' that hasn't even been shown in St. Paul or Minneapolis."

The pleasure vouchsafed equalled our first day at a circus. "The Hun Within" gives a phase of the war, shows the citizen of German birth standing upright for his adopted country while his renegade son, who had gained the finish of a Heidelberg education, plots against government and native land.

In those six reels is crowded more thrills, excitement, adventure, plot, patriotism, sacrifice, suffering, that was ever before collected. As the old father who stands for America, George Fawcett gives a wonderful portrayal. And Dorothy Gish is no less superb as the girl who casts off the renegade.

True, three weeks forced abstention from the movies, has whetted a man's appetite for pictures, and has made him thankful for permission to see this, but nevertheless "The Hun Within" is a picture which will hold first rank in the emotional drama and teaches its lesson of patriotism without preaching.

A notable feature is the few titles and short ones at that, used. The story is so intense it needs few of them. The photography is wonderful, etched as clearly as an engraving. There is no needless detail. One section, timed, went fully two minutes without a title.

That tells the thing. When your pictures are so real, no explanatory story is needed. It is hoped the Best may reserve "The Hun Within" for a future offering.

A WORTHY RECORD

Resolutions Adopted by First Congregational Church Praise Rev. G. P. Sheridan

To the members and adherents of the First Congregational church of Brainerd, Minnesota.

The committee appointed by your body to prepare a suitable letter expressing the esteem in which Rev. G. P. Sheridan and his wife are held by this church and community beg leave to submit the following for your consideration:

HISTORY.

Rev. Sheridan came to this church seven and one-half years ago in response to a unanimous call from this church that he should become its pastor. He accepted the call and came to us almost a stranger to our membership, not fully knowing he was coming to a church almost without life or unity of purpose. It was God's will that he should undertake what to human eyes seemed a hopeless task. From his first sermon he struck the right chord and with faith in Him who doeth all things well he began to skillfully and fearlessly untangle the crossed wires, and to set the currents of church life flowing in the right directions so that live wires in the membership became the rule. Under his wise administration the church became a highly efficient factor for the development and advancement of spiritual life not only in our own membership but in all classes of our city.

We congratulate our sister church on securing the services of such a person as Mr. Sheridan so devoted to the cause of the Master and so fitted by nature and preparation for the work of the ministry.

Approved by the Church Council.

DON'T DRINK SHIPS!

U. S. Food Administration

Are you shocked to see the lady drinking ships? You drink ships every time you use sugar unnecessarily, in a beverage.

Seventy-five per cent of the sugar used in this country has to be brought here in ships. Every possible ship is needed for the transportation of troops and supplies to the other side.

Eliminate sugar as a luxury, and you release many ships for war purposes.

Teach your appetite to remember this—

DON'T DRINK SHIPS.

Somebody's Dollars Will Do It—I Wonder if They'll Be Yours

By Bruce Barton

I WILL tell you what will happen some night this winter in France. Some night when it's cold and dark. There will be a rustling through the front line trench, where our boys stand guard. And a heavy laden Secretary will make his way along.

In his hands will be great steaming pots: in his pocket chocolate and cigarettes.

From one man to another he will go, passing a cup full of hot coffee to hands that tremble with the cold; bringing the comfort of a bit of sweet and a smoke.

Men will hail him cheerily, slapping him on the back; and when he has gone things will be a little easier in that trench because he has passed that way.

How much will it cost to make that trip, do you suppose? Counting the pittance that the Secretary is paid, and the cost of the chocolate and the cigarettes and all?

Five dollars? Twenty-five dollars? I do not know.

But whether it is five dollars or twenty-five, I'd like to think that it is my five or twenty-five—wouldn't you? That some night when it's cold and lonesome, my money and yours might send a Secretary out along that frontlinetrench. Let's make up our minds that we are going to pay for a score of those trips. A score of the nights this winter shall be our nights.

—nights when the boys greet joyously the chocolate and cigarettes that our money provided; and are happier because our representative has passed.

For the Boys in the Service

SERVICE THAT WINS MERCY MUNITIONS THE SOLDIER HEART NEEDED IN TRENCHES

Fred Lockley, Y. M. C. A. Tells of the Gratitude of the Boys at the Front.

Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, Fighting Author, Makes Stirring Appeal for Y. W. C. A.

"One of the discoveries men are making over here," Fred Lockley, of the Y. M. C. A. and of Portland, Oregon, writes from London, "is that more pleasure can be had out of giving than getting. Many a man who has spent money freely in the old days to buy pleasure is finding that he gets more pleasure over here by the spending of one's self in the service of others."

"A few months ago I went out with a fellow Y. M. C. A. secretary to hunt up out-of-the-way detachments of troops. A stable guard here, a machine gun company there, a platoon somewhere else. We carried our goods in an automobile. We had plenty of writing paper and envelopes for free distribution, and chocolate, cookies, chewing tobacco and smoking tobacco, cigarettes, razor blades, tooth paste and things of that kind for sale. American war service workers were busy everywhere. We found Salvation Army lassies making doughnuts for the boys and K. of C. secretaries giving help. Books furnished by the American Library Association were to be seen on all sides.

"Hearing firing at a distance, we drove down the road and found a score or so of men at machine gun practice. The officer gave the men half an hour recess to buy goods.

"At another place we came in sight of a lieutenant drilling a platoon. I said to the lieutenant: 'How soon before you dismiss the company? We have Y. M. C. A. goods for sale.'

"He said: 'Right now. Sergeant, dismiss the company.'

"And ten seconds later the company was in line waiting to buy goods from our traveling Y. Grateful is no name for it. The men can't do enough to show their gratitude."

Why You Should Give Twice What You Did Before

The government has fixed the sum needed for the care of the men in the service at $170,000,000.

Unless Americans give twice as much as ever before our soldiers, sailors and marines in 1918 may not enjoy their

NEW BORN DEMOCRACY

Delegates Declare Freedom of Eighteen Teuton States.

History Making Convention is Held in Independence Hall at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 28.—A new born democracy has been proclaimed here for the 65,000,000 people of the misgoverned nations of Central Europe.

Assembled in Independence Hall, America's cradle of liberty, the accredited representatives of these states rang out defiance to autocracy, aristocracy and imperialism, and promulgated a declaration of independence in the very chamber in which the declaration of 1776 was read by the colonists.

To fittingly proclaim that the eighteen Slav states of the German emperor's once subservient Mittel-Europa have united under a banner of their own and shaken off the yoke of domination, the Mid-European Union had a new Liberty bell cast, as well as a new national flag, which was unfurled alongside the Stars and Stripes flying on the roof of Independence Hall.

As the new bell pealed forth its chimes of liberty for the Slav nations, Prof. Masaryk, president of the Mid-European union, read the declaration from the steps of America's birthplace of freedom.

Previously, the document had been signed by the representatives of the new federation, composed of Czechoslovak, Ukrainians, Lithuanians and Jugoslavs.

ADMIRAL DOT, MIDGET, DIES

Famous Figure in Circus World Follows Daughter to Grave.

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A few hours after his daughter, a pneumonia victim, had been buried, "Admiral Dot," 59 years old, widely known midget, died here of the same disease.

"Admiral Dot," whose real name was Leopold Kahn, was connected with the circus business about twenty-five years, being one of the first midgets exhibited by P. T. Barnum.

FOE IS NOT YET WHIPPED

London Military Critics Consider More Blows Are Needed.

London, Oct. 28.—The German armies should not be considered as definitely and finally beaten, military observers here say. Allied soldiers, who are fighting their way forward in the face of great enemy resistance, know the enemy is not broken and that much heavy fighting probably will have to be faced.

Speakers also voiced condemnation of the Russian Bolshevik Soviets because of their reported decree making women the "property of the state."
